TAGLINE: Sustain a healthier and more physically active lifestyle

WHAT IS THE PRODUCT? REATHLETE XPRESS is a knee, calf, and thigh massager that features sequential compression with heat therapy. Its dual air compression and heat therapy doubles up as a calf massager or a thigh massager depending on how you put it on, relieving knee pain, helping with muscle recovery, easing soreness, and improving blood circulation.

WHAT DOES THE PRODUCT DO?

Compression and heat combined increase blood flow to your knees, improving chronic and occasional pain and soreness alike, removing discomfort in the knees and helping muscles recover, while it combats soreness, improves blood flow, and mobility, and it also provides relaxation.

XPRESS helps you combat chronic pain, restless legs syndrome, inflammation, swelling, varicose veins, cellulite, stiffness, low physical activity, soreness, and blood pooling.

Heat therapy is invaluable when treating muscle pain or ligament pain. It can ease muscle tension, increase flexibility, and heal damaged tissue by delivering more oxygen and nutrients thanks to improved blood flow.

Press the + or - button to adjust the intensity levels. You can select the massage mode that best suits your needs. You can combine air compression with heat therapy or use one of the functions independently.

HIT POINTS:

- Ensure the healthiness of your knees in the long run with XPRESS
- A highly effective combination of compression massage + heat therapy
- Great choice for faster recovery, better blood circulation, and speedy relaxation

XPRESS

WHY SHOULD THE AUDIENCE BUY IT? Knee pain, injuries, and stiffness are common, but with the help of XPRESS, they don't have to be permanent. You can wear the XPRESS two ways: on your knee and calf or on your knee and thigh- and choose from four intensity levels to get the compression that is both comfortable and effective, or cycle through all of them. You can also add the necessary amount of heat or use this function independently.

Control unit with LCD screen and fully customize your massage to suit your current needs. Easy-to-use and informative, the attached control unit will let you truly relax regulating not only air compression and heat intensity but also the massage duration. Entrust your knee, calf, and thigh to REATHLETE XPRESS for fast and efficient recovery.

The massager is wireless and portable (includes a travel bag.) It's easy to carry around and use whether you want to take it to the gym, the office, on a trip, or elsewhere you might need a quality compression massage for fast tension and pain relief.
